Miss Eileen Booth Is Victim of Tragedy; R.C.M.P. Officers Investigated Fatality; Coroner Declares No Inquest Necessary

Miss Eileen Booth, a nurse at the Lacombe and District Community Hospital, was drowned in an accident at Gull Lake Tuesday night. Miss Booth, in company with friends, went in for a swim after sun-down. Three other young people of Lacombe, Miss Esther Whit, a nurse at the local hospital, and Messrs. Stan Hunter and Harry Hunter accompanied her. Miss Booth, not a strong swimmer, disappeared from sight and was not missed for several minutes. She sank below the waters without a cry, and it is believed, suffered from an attack of cramps. A search was immediately started for the girl, augmented around midnight by Corporal R. Matheson of the R.C.M.P. detachment, Red Deer. The search continued on Wednesday morning, and for hours the searchers hunted futilely for the body, which was not recovered until 10:45 a.m.

Police officers investigating the death placed the details before Coroner Dr. E. M. Sharpe on Wednesday afternoon and the coroner decided an inquest was not necessary. The body was taken to the Lacombe Funeral Home.

Came From Claresholm
Miss Booth, who came to Lacombe 18 months ago from her home town, Claresholm, was highly esteemed by her friends in Lacombe. She received her R.N. degree at the Holy Cross Hospital in Calgary in 1932 and for a year following that served in the Western Hospital, Calgary. She was born in Claresholm on June 8, 1911, and received her education at that point. She leaves to mourn her loss her mother and father in Claresholm, and three sisters.

Miss Booth was highly thought of in this district and was most popular with the hospital staff. She leaves a host of friends in Lacombe and district, whose deep sympathy is expressed to the family of the deceased.

The body will be shipped to her home in Claresholm, where funeral services will be held on Saturday afternoon.

Organize Senior Y.P.S. at Meeting Monday Night

Eighteen young people of Lacombe met at the Manse of the United Church on Monday night to discuss the organization of a senior Young People's Society. The meeting was called by Rev. A. J. Carr, who outlined briefly, in a suggestive capacity only, what activities such an organization could undertake. By a show of hands, it was definitely decided to form such a society. After some discussion it was decided to leave the election of officers until the next meeting, to be held at Dr. E. M. Sharpe's home on Tuesday, October 4, at 8:15 p.m. (Please bring pencils).

Possible activities for the society were briefly discussed and included literary reading, dramatics, and financial assistance for the United Church. Arthur Cottrell was elected as chairman pro tem until the election of permanent officers.

Four Power Conference to Be Held in Munich Today

With war clouds moving dangerously near the breaking point, the whole world during the past week has been held in the direct suspense, as the diplomats of the world have been working day and night to prevent the cataclysm which would envelope Europe.

Renewed hope that there may yet be averted is contained in the cabled dispatches received last night, which state that the French Foreign Minister Chamberlain made the dramatic announcement, to a packed house of the Chamberlain Hotel, to attend a momentous conference in which the British leader will meet with Chancellor Hitler of Germany, Premier Mussolini of Italy and Premier Daladier of France in a last-minute effort to avoid war.

With tears in his eyes Premier Chamberlain made the announcement, when members on the floor of the House and peers in the galleries waved papers, shouting their approval and cheering madly.

His final words were: "No member of this House will not find his heart torn at the crisis has once more been postponed. I hope the House will release me now to go to see what I can make of this last effort."

Over 1300 Entries Judged At Lacombe School Fair Held in Pavilion, Wednesday

Central School Wins Both Cup for Sports Competition and First Prize for School Parade; Nine Rural Schools Compete

A total of 1321 entries were judged at the Lacombe Rural School Fair held at the Central Alberta Pavilion Wednesday. Nine schools in all competed in the Fair, exhibits of which were above average. G. R. Holton, judge of some of the classes at the Fair, who is in constant contact with all School Fairs in Central Alberta, stated that "the ropework, woodwork and grain entries were well above average, but the vegetable classes did not come up to the standard of former years." Central School, under the able coaching of Teacher Sam Davidson, won the Sports Cup awarded to teams competing in four varied competitions. Central received 36 points to win this cup; Arbrodale was second with 32 and Sunny Crest a close third with 31 points.

Lacombe Enjoys Nicest Fall for Thirty-one Years

Week of Sept. 11 to 17 Warmest September Week in Over Thirty Years; Fine Weather Continues

With daily maximum temperatures of 78, 83, 81, 86, 83, 87 and 89 degrees the week of Sept. 11 to 17 was quite the warmest September week recorded in 31 years. Even in July and August there have been very few warmer weeks in any year. The hottest week at Lacombe was the last two days of June and the first five days of July, 1924, with daily temperatures of 82, 88, 90, 101, 78, 85 and 98 degrees. Since the close of the three weeks of wet weather, from August 4 to 23, with 4.7 inches of rain, the weather has been bright and unusually warm.

This combination of moisture and heat has forced rapid filling and ripening of the late seeded crops. Threshing is now about 50 per cent done and only in two or three years have yields and grades been better than this year.

Only on August 11 and September 2 has the temperature been down to 32 degrees and there has been almost no frost damage. The Lacombe Globe is indebted to Mr. F. H. Reed, superintendent of the Experimental Station here, for the above information.

NEW ARRIVALS
Born at the Lacombe and District Community Hospital:
On Sept. 16, to Mr. and Mrs. A. Duglis of Clive, a son.
On Sept. 19, to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Long of Lacombe, a son.
On Sept. 24, to Mr. and Mrs. H. Riley of Rimbey, a daughter.

Alberta Supreme Court Rules Production Tax Out

By T. B. WINDROSS
EDMONTON.—The best news that Alberta farmers have had for years, apart from this year's good crop, was the judgment of the Alberta appeal court over the week-end, ruling ultra vires the Production Tax Act by which the Provincial Government planned to take from farmers seven per cent of all the agricultural produce in the province.

The appeal court was unanimous in its decision, declaring that the proposed tax would be "indirect" taxation and therefore outside the powers of the provincial legislature, according to the terms of the constitution of Canada. By that judgment, the British North America Act and the Alberta Supreme Court have combined to have the effect of saving millions of dollars for Alberta farmers, which the Alberta government would have taken in taxes under its legislation.

There was reason to believe, at the same time, that at least some of the members of the same Provincial Government are relieved by the squashing of the Production Tax Act, which was passed last spring under the glorious but somewhat misleading title of the "Agricultural Land Relief Act." Farmers all over the province—even Social Credit party groups—had protested vigorously against the act because it was obvious that the legislation would take millions of dollars out of the pockets of citizens on the land.

That provision of the B.N.A. Act which limits a province to direct taxation figured largely last week in a new dispute between the Alberta Government and the chartered banks, when the banks decided to fight a new levy, by the province, amounting to $100,000.

The extra levy was demanded by the establishment of a new provincial marketing board, it is believed here, is an attempt to have that board take over, from the credit houses, the marketing of credit houses. The marketing board which farmers would be expected to hand to the Government in exchange for scrip. The board would sell for cash.

Better Lighting Needed

LACOMBE lags far behind other progressive towns in the matter of street lighting. Downtown Lacombe streets are poorly lighted and provide but poor welcome to the Saturday night shoppers who crowd the Town to do their regular week-end buying. At the main corner in the town, the Royal Bank corner, only one light is installed, failing miserably to dispel the gloomy and dismal darkness.

In the town to our south, Red Deer, street lamps of modern design blaze forth a welcome to visitors and shoppers alike. Last year Red Deer installed these lamps, providing a lighting power unequalled by any other town along the Calgary-Edmonton line. Why not Lacombe?

These lights cost Red Deer $166.65 each. Fifty per cent of this amount was paid by the Town itself, while the other fifty per cent is being paid by the merchants and business men of the town by way of a frontage tax, the added assessment being paid over a number of years.

This then, does not seem unreasonable expense. Every merchant in town should be willing to pay the small extra amount on their business tax each year to provide lighting in downtown streets which would be a credit to the town, and a welcome to its visitors. It would be a greatly needed improvement and good advertising for Lacombe which would stand for years.

Street lights and wiring at the present time in this town are not owned by Lacombe itself. All street lights are the property of the Calgary Power Co., which firm provides utilities to the Town under contract. This contract expires next year on June 30, and any action which the Town might take towards renovation of its street lighting system could be made before that time.

Not only would these street lamps of modern design improve immeasurably the lighting of the downtown streets—their installation would mean the disappearance of the unsightly poles and wiring which run haphazard at all angles across the Lacombe streets at the present time. Their installation would clean up one of the major eye-sores of this town.

The idea is worthy of every citizen's attention and careful thought of every Lacombe resident.

Still Another Experiment

WAR news and the scare of war has forced from the front pages of the dailies the announcement made by the Social Credit cabinet ministers recently that $200,000 had been voted by the Alberta cabinet for the installation of state credit houses. This dream of social credit theorism appears at last to be a reality as Premier Aberhart and his supporters make another bid for public support.

How the state credit houses will work is a secret of the Provincial Government at the time of writing. Doubtless some sort of "prosperity certificates" will be issued in an endeavor to provide what is claimed more purchasing power in Alberta. Whether this "scrip" will be received with open arms by the Alberta public is a contentious point.

The "prosperity certificate" issue of 1936 failed miserably at considerable expense to this province. Now another $200,000 of public monies is to be thrown into the ring in a gamble that citizens will accept the new certificates at will. It is possible, but not probable that these certificates will be accepted at large, for the record of the Aberhart Government does not find general favor throughout the province.

Whatever the final fate of the state credit houses, Premier Aberhart is being given another opportunity to put his theory of credit once more to the test.

Responsibilities in Holy Land

(From the Sydney, N.S.W., Herald)

THE British Government faces in Palestine responsibilities it cannot evade. There is primarily the restoration of security in a region of first-class strategic importance to the whole Empire. The intense interest of the Arab world in the outcome of what is accepted as a national struggle makes the Palestine problem one of international dimensions. While the cultivation of close friendly relations with Turkey and Egypt confirms this view, British prestige in advocacy and exposition of enlightened self-government for nationally-conscious peoples is here at stake; and in this particular instance the British Government is specifically charged with a task which it sought international approval at Geneva. Britain in Palestine must be a mediator as well as a trustee, a trustee while at the same time unable to resign commitments as an interested party.

Through the Eyes of a Country Woman

By BRIDGET

Events are moving so swiftly in Europe that twelve hours can alter the whole complexion of international affairs.

Listening to Hitler's roarings and ravings, on Monday afternoon, the picture I had built up of him was confirmed and amplified!

"King for a day"—and more than a day. All last week, Kings and heads of nations were waiting on Milord Hitler, swallowing their pride, and dancing to the tune that the German Dictator piped. Not only them, but the whole world has been jumping to the crack of the Master's whip. We cannot deceive ourselves, he is the master of the present situation. The nations of the world do not want war, and are prepared to do much to try and appease the Lord of Berchtesgaden, and are even prepared to force Czechoslovakia to give up that which was given to her, by them, twenty years ago, to avoid it, but Hitler wants war, and wants it now. This being so, and having no scruples, he can dictate any terms he likes, stepping them up each time the nations have agreed to one set. The original terms that Great Britain and France persuaded Czechoslovakia to accept, agreeing to give up land which she had improved, policed, and fortified during the twenty years of her existence were acceptable to the Hitler of Berchtesgaden, but not to the week older Hitler of Godesberg. When he so graciously received Mr. Chamberlain there, his demands were stepped up to a point which I firmly believe he knew would not be accepted.

Don't let us for one instant fool ourselves into believing that Hitler desires peace. On Page 708 of his book, "Mein Kampf," (his declaration of beliefs), he writes: "Let us make up our minds that we shall never win back lost territory by solemn invocation of the law. . . . ONLY BY FORCE OF ARMS." Again on Page 710, we find these words: "The only way to be won by a sharp sword, that is, by bloody struggle."

On Monday he vowed that these present demands were the last territorial concessions he desired in Europe, but when he is escorted on top of the Sudeten mountains, won't his eyes stray towards the oil fields of Rumania, and the agricultural cornucopia of the Ukraine, and won't he, perhaps, lay the idea of a possible outlet via the Black Sea? These sentiments were aired in this column quite a few months ago, and confirmation can be found in his already mentioned book; on Page 742, where he writes, "If we speak today in Europe of new soil, we can but think of Russia, and her subject border states," and, as on the same page he speaks of the migration of the Germans being reversed and turned "eastwards." Does that sound as if Czechoslovakia were to be the last victim of his ambition?

His ultimatum, delivered at Godesberg, was impossible of fulfillment. It is such a tragedy, for after years of oppression, the Czechs had grasped this, their first opportunity of self-expression, and were quickly forging ahead industrially. Does Hitler maybe covet "Skoda," the munitions factory which can bear comparison with Krupp's? Another outstanding Czech achievement is "Bata," a super shoe factory which holds an unique and enviable position in Europe today, and which employs more than 30,000 persons. Czechoslovakian novelties and china are being sold all over the world today, and their products along these lines have surely ousted Germany's like contribution.

A small point that is interesting to note is that the part of Czechoslovakia that Hitler is now holding, he handed over to him, lock, stock and barrel, by Saturday next, is the Bohemian part, and which is very rich in coal and iron.

All the nations of the world are dictating to Czechoslovakia in a desperate gamble for peace; we must remember, however, that this gamble is not with their own nationals, but it does involve the lives and properties of Czechoslovakians.

Hitler's concession of a plebiscite to be held by November 25th, after the Germans have occupied the Sudeten territory for two months, is really too apparent to need elucidating. Who would dare vote against "Der Fuhrer" at a Hitler-devised and supervised plebiscite?

Also, those who feel that peace must be bought at any price, at any sacrifice of ideals, would be well advised to examine this question closely. War, averted now, is not Peace attained, but Hitler postponed. Who is going to benefit by a breathing-spell? An even stronger Germany will undoubtedly be the only result.

The German Dictator is today laying the blame of war on Dr. Benes' shoulders, but this is only a quibble, a duplication of 1914. Serbia served as the scapegoat then, as Czechoslovakia is being made to do today.

Great Britain stands in the unfortunate but all-important position of being called in as arbitrator or mediator in most international disputes. It is a thankless task; apparently she is going to have to share the blame if war breaks out, because she did not FORCE Czechoslovakia to accept Hitler's terms—terms which would spell this little republic's death-warrant.

How right was Anthony Eden when he condemned Chamberlain's "policy of appeasement," for I believe, and I am not alone in my belief, that Eden's firm stand would not have allowed this position to have developed. The latest bulletins show Great Britain, France and Russia more united, and standing firmer shoulder to shoulder, but it may well be too late to avert disaster. So, one man in his vaingloriousness, his bombastic egotism, his desire to prove to himself his own omniscience, who has said (Mein Kampf, Page 152): " . . . what is not yielded by gentle persuasion will have to be taken by the strong right arm," may well be signing the death-warrants of millions of human beings, unleashing the dogs of war, making beasts of God's people, whom He "made in his own image."

Conservative Leader Continues Campaign For Reform in Eastern Canada

OTTAWA.—Whatever defects the party leadership of Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion may develop, it is already sufficiently apparent that lack of drama is not to be one of them.

Now the word comes from sources close to the new chief, that instead of "backing down" on his reform utterances that have aroused the hostility of the reactionary "big interests" in National Conservatism, he is planning to head those reactionary "big interests" by a dramatic sortie into their very den in St. James Street.

The meeting in Montreal, the very stronghold of big interest Toryism, is the next spectacular move which may be looked for in the Manion leadership. And instead of the new chief going there to placate the so-called "big interests" in his party, his mission will be to denigrate his sincerity for reform by proclaiming even more resolute than he has done elsewhere the doctrines which he has been preaching since his accession to the party leadership.

Meantime, Dr. Manion's path as a party leader is not exactly being strewn with roses. Liberal Chief W. L. Mackenzie King is seeing to it that by leaving the date of the by-elections which are pending until close to the last moment before the opening session of Parliament. No simple action by the Government could more effectively ham-string the new Conservative leader and restrain his zeal for crusading around the Dominion. For Hon. Dr. Manion has to contest one of those by-elections himself in order to obtain a seat in the Commons and function as Leader of His Majesty's Loyal Opposition. It is necessary for him, secondarily, to keep within commuting distance of Ottawa so as to be on hand when the by-elections are called. He would not want to be caught somewhere out on the Prairies or on the Pacific Coast in the midst of a schedule of speaking engagements by a surprise Government announcement of the impending contests in which he must take so personal an interest.

The question which Parliament Hill is asking with considerable interest these days is, Where is Herridge? The former Minister for Western Affairs, is credited with having been the inspiration for the 1935 reform program of the Conservative party, has disappeared from the political stage of the Capital as suddenly and as completely as though he had stepped on one of those innumerable trap-doors in public life that lead to oblivion. But why Major Herridge should disappear into oblivion at the present time is something that Federal political circles fail to comprehend. For Major Herridge is a crusader, and above everything else he is a crusader for reform, which he has been preaching since rallying slogan. Furthermore, in the eventful days of late 1934 before the rift in the Conservative Cabinet, there was no more familiar intimate to be seen taking an evening constitutional around the Parliament Hill walks than Dr. Manion; Major Herridge and Hon. "Harry" Stevens.

Now, of this celebrated trim-viriate, apparently Dr. Manion alone retains the crusading interest in reform. Major Herridge is practicing law unobtrusively in the Capital and spending his spare time in reading and other quiet pursuits in the miniature empire that he owns in the Gatineau Hills. "Harry" Stevens is just as conspicuously absent from the Manion leadership picture. Recent rumors have credited him with a loss of interest in Federal politics and with ambitions for power in the Provincial field in British Columbia. It has been represented to Parliament Hill that the former leader of the Reconstruction party would be prepared to accept the Provincial leadership of the Tories on the Pacific Coast.

Diamond Pin From Africa Given Away

If you should ever visit South Africa, you will in all probability take a trip into Rhodesia, named after that great imperialist, Cecil Rhodes, and when in Rhodesia your first thought will be—you must go to Kimberley, where the wonderful DeBeers mines are located. There you will find that modern mechanism has transformed the old mines into a busy hive of industry.

In the old days everything was practically done by Coolie labor and even now many hundreds of Coolies are employed deep down in the bowels of the earth. The Coolies, although practically uncivilized natives, soon learned, by the aid of illegitimate diamond merchants, how to smuggle diamonds out of the mines without being observed. One way was to cut open a fleshy part of the body and insert the diamonds, let the skin grow over the wound and then when a trader appeared they would cut out the gems and sell them for a trifle to the traders, who in turn would reap an enormous profit.

Others would swallow the uncut stones and regain them from their stomach when once they were safely away from the mines and then sell them to outsiders. However, that's all done away with now, as the Coolies live in compounds and are rigidly inspected and X-rayed before they leave the premises. Thus there is now no place for the illegitimate trader.

But you do not have to go to Kimberley in South Africa for your diamonds; they are here, right here in Lacombe, waiting for you, and the easiest way to obtain one is to be at the Thanksgiving Day Dance on Oct. 10 at the Central Alberta Pavil-

THE TWO PRAYERS

Last night my little boy confessed to me
 Some childish wrong;
 And kneeling with his knee
 He prayed with tears,
 "Dear God, make me a man
 Like Daddy, wise and strong,
 I know you can."
 Then while he slept
 I knelt beside his bed,
 Confessed my sins,
 And prayed with low-bowed head,
 "O God, make me a child
 Like my child here
 Iure, guileless,
 Trusting Thee with faith sincere."
 —Andrew Gillies.

ion, when if you are fortunate enough to be on the secret spot during the Supper Dance you will be presented with one of the prettiest little gems that ever left the DeBeers mines in South Africa.

More Economical
 Grocer: "But why do you want a carrier pigeon instead of a turkey?"
 Thrifty young bride: "Because I hear that they go further than any other bird."

Defined
 "Now," said the teacher, "what does his phrase mean—'He came to himself'?"
 "Please, sir," said the child, "it means he had pawned all his clothes."

Mirror

(From Our Own Correspondent)

MIRROR.—On Thursday evening Mrs. D. Aitken entertained two tables of bridge. The prize for the high score was won by Mrs. J. H. MacLean.

Howard Wells of Benito spent a day in town this week.

On Friday evening Rev. and Mrs. Blewett, Miss Aitken Webster and Mrs. F. L. Smithers attended the bridge party in Aitken given by the Guild of the Anglican Church.

Among Edmonton visitors this week were Miss Grace Coglin, Mrs. Leo Ray, Mrs. C. Hardy, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Smithers and family and G. Cassidy.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Oldring of Aitken are now residing in Mirror, where Mr. Oldring is employed by the C.N.R.

On Friday evening the Literary Society of the High School held a winter roast at the creek for the High School. All who attended report an enjoyable evening.

Mirror C.N.R. yards have taken a decided change for the better. There are more crews working than there have been for the past 15 years. A new position, assistant superintendent, has been created, Mr. J. MacMillan of Winnipeg occupying that post.

Model of Liner Sails at Toronto

TORONTO.—A model of the Queen Mary, 22 feet long, weighing 1½ tons, and built almost exactly to the scale of the ocean liner, was launched here recently by Oscar Fletcher.

The twin-screw craft, which cost about $5000 in time and material, took two years to build. The ship holds two passengers besides the skipper, and a gasoline engine is expected to produce a speed of between 8 and 15 knots. The model, painted red, black and white, is said to have almost 1600 portholes.

DISTRIBUTION OF THE IMPORTANT VARIETIES OF WHEAT SEEDED IN WESTERN CANADA IN 1938

MAP INDICATES WHERE EACH VARIETY IS DOMINANT

The map shown above reveals the extent of the distribution of the important varieties of wheat in Western Canada. The areas shown as being in crop to any one variety means that that particular variety is dominant in the district. This is a companion study to a similar investigation made and published by the Searle Grain Company in 1936.

In 1936 Marquis wheat occupied 69.4 per cent of the total area seeded to wheat in the Prairie Provinces. This last spring only 58.4 per cent was seeded to Marquis.

Marquis has lost ground to the rust-resistant wheat, Thatcher, and to a slight extent to the still newer rust-resistant sorts, Reward and Apex. The tendency for the replacement of Marquis by rust-resistant wheats is still going on at a rapid pace. It is probable, therefore, that after the next seeding—1939—while Marquis will still be the dominant wheat in Canada, the percentage seeded to this notable variety will be considerably less than 50 per cent.

It is also interesting to note that Garnet, which was in second place in 1936, is now in fourth place, having been replaced in Northern Alberta to a great extent by Red Bobs. This tendency, too, is still going forward.

It is understood that still newer and better varieties of rust-resistant wheats are now under test by the Rust Research Laboratory, Winnipeg, by the Dominion Experimental Farms and by the Western Universities, and one or more new sorts may be issued for use in the course of a year or two.

New Signs for Alberta Roads

Numerous new signs are to be erected on Alberta main highways and on inter-secting secondary highways, according to a recent announcement by Hon. W. A. Fallow, Minister of Public Works.

Need of adequate sign-posts on the highways was taken up by the minister by the Alberta Motor Association.

Intention of the department is to proceed immediately with the erecting of signs at various locations selected by officials of the motor association who have made a special survey of the most desirable spots.

With the surfacing of highways being advanced by the department as speedily as possible, it is believed that the volume of motor traffic is bound to increase. In view of this heavier load, it is felt that the province should have its sign-post system fully up to requirements.

One suggestion received by the minister is that a yellow centre line should be run along the main highways, as this would be seen more easily at night.

Another suggestion is that illuminated signs should be placed at curves. These suggestions, it is understood, are being considered by the department.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE!

The following clipping is reprinted from a recent edition of The Rimby Record:

TWO ADDRESSES

Edith: "Dick, dear, your office is on Main Street, isn't it?"

Dick: "Yes, why?"

Edith: "That's what I told Daddy. But he made such a funny mistake about you yesterday. He said he'd been looking you up in Bradstreet."

Fact and Fiction . . .

By ART

It was 145 years ago on Sunday since the birth of one of England's most noted poets, Felicia Dorothea Hemans, whose beautiful verses are still to be found in many of our present-day school text books. Born on September 25, 1753, Mrs. Hemans died in 1835 at the age of 42 years, leaving behind a long list of splendid poems, of which "The Graves of a Household," "The Landing of the Pilgrim Fathers," and "The Homes of England" are probably the best known. Do you recall the latter poem? Let me quote you a part of the first verse of that masterpiece:

"The stately homes of England,
How beautiful they stand,
Amidst their tall ancestral trees,
O'er all the pleasant land."

Mrs. Hemans began writing at the age of 14, at 21 her poems were receiving national attention and steadily improved until failing health and an early death ended her efforts.

"The Night Visitor and Other Stories," a volume by Arnold Bennett from the Lacombe Public Library, I found rather disappointing, for the author had spoiled some splendid plots by putting into the mouths of his characters a great deal of that some conversation which could just as well have been eliminated. It was a pity these plots could not have been handled by that master of the short story, O. Henry.

If you are looking for an interesting book for over the week end, don't pass up "Death on the Nile." It is a fine mystery story involving Linnet Ridgeway, a beautiful young heiress who "steals" the fiancé of her best girl friend, and after a whirlwind courtship and honeymoon trip up the Nile, her friend, Jacqueline de Rochford, takes the same boat, bent on making life miserable for the young couple. Linnet's murder is the start of a long series of startling events which, while growing complicated towards the end, are the basis of a smartly written story.

Queensland Adds To National Parks

BRISBANE, Queensland.—Following examples set by the U.S. and Canada, the Queensland Labor Government has inaugurated an active policy of proclaiming national parks as part of a move to attract tourists.

Ministers returning from Great Britain, via America, have been impressed by United States measures to preserve the country's natural beauty resorts.

More than 13,000 acres have been added to national park areas of Queensland, bringing the total area of these parks to 430,242 acres.

Altogether there are now nearly 80 Barrier Reef Islands on that have been proclaimed National Parks.

Blackfalds

(From Our Own Correspondent)

BLACKFALDS.—The sympathy of the community is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Elwell upon the recent death of Mrs. Elwell's mother, Mrs. Burns, at Vancouver.

Last week an old friends was back with us again for a visit of a few days in the shape of Harvey (Pat) Miller from Kansas. He has a purchaser for his farm here, but is doubtful as to whether he will sell. He reports that both his sons are farming in Kansas, and that his daughter, Mildred, is in the millinery business. Mrs. Miller came up with him and remained in Calgary with her father, Mr. Sorenson, who is very ill. They were to have left Calgary for the States on Monday morning.

Thanks to the warm weather, threshing has been progressing steadily during the past two weeks. A few days of so far, yet remains, however, if the present warm weather continues as we all hope it does. The best record of so far, was 43 bushels per acre on Mr. Will Heenan's farm.

Hold Farewell Party

The Crusaders held a pleasant farewell party last Friday in honor of Miss Jean Farewell, who is leaving us shortly to go into training at the Holy Cross Hospital, Calgary. The girls presented Jean with an alarm clock as a fitting gift to a popular member of the club.

Both the Revs. W. E. Herbert and A. L. Carr held services at their respective churches in the village last Sunday. Mr. Carr announced that he hoped to arrange for the starting of a Sunday School in the United Church next Sunday. He also stated that the usual Thanksgiving service would be held in the church on the second Sunday in September.

We understand that Mrs. Waghorn, Sr., is seriously ill in the Red Deer Hospital.

Miss Helen McNeil has taken a position teaching at Garbutt's Business College, Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Bell were busy over the week-end moving house. They have occupied the house recently occupied by the Harb, north of the village.

Returns From B.C. Mrs. Warren returned last week from her visit to B.C., and reports having had a very enjoyable trip. En route she met Mrs. Cluff, whose husband, formerly the station agent here, is now located at Eckshaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Stauffer were visitors in Didsbury over the week-end of Sept. 17.

Mrs. P. McLennan has been under the weather lately but now seems to be mending.

Canada Films Wheat for British Screen

REGINA, Sask.—The story of Canada's grain fields will be flashed on screens of British theatres next winter, through the efforts of the Canadian Wheat Board.

Moving pictures are being taken of the harvesting and marketing of the 1938 crop in Saskatchewan, with shots of tractors, binders, workers and bustling farmers' wives feeding the harvesting crews.

The idea is to have the film shown in Britain in order to boost the sales of Canadian wheat.

Niagara Spray Missing; Sliding Rock Suspected

(From Our Own Correspondent)

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y.—Engineers suddenly noticed recently that a well-known plume of spray had disappeared from the centre of the Canadian Horseshoe Falls, and promptly concluded that a huge new rock slide had occurred at Niagara.

L. L. Gibson, a Park Commission engineer, estimated that an unseen edge of limestone 40 or 50 feet long and 12 to 15 feet wide had plunged into the rapids beneath the falls sometime in the past three days, the sound of the plunge unheard above the perpetual roar of the falls.

Mr. Gibson said the contour of the falls at the brink had not been changed.

Spring Valley

(From Our Own Correspondent)

SPRING VALLEY.—Cliff Bailey has bought a new John Deere tractor. Bert White had the honor of owning the first crop threshed by the engine. Perhaps that accounts for the bumper crop of oats.

Leslie Bailey, like most other beginners, is starting on his way with a Fordson.

TEES.—A shock was received in the district Saturday when word came through from Kelowna, B.C., of the sudden passing of Miss Ruth Beattie, aged 19. Miss Beattie left here last spring with her parents and settled in Kelowna; where she was enjoying apparently good health. She leaves to mourn her loss her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Beattie at Kelowna; a sister, Mrs. Geo. Parks of Tees, and Mrs. Eva Rutherford at Redcliff. Mr. Wedderburn, who passed away last Christmas Eve here, was her grandfather.

Threshing is going on apace throughout the district, with about 60 per cent completed. Very little coarse grains have gone through the machines yet. Alex Sinn had a little mishap making a set with his outfit when the separator fell into a hole and turned over. After the machine was again righted it was found to have a twisted frame, a bent cylinder shaft and minus a few pulleys.

Returns From Holidays
The Scribe, after spending a holiday at Jasper, Vancouver, Nanaimo and Calgary, returned very tired and ready for work again, just to get rested up.

Friday evening of this week the school girls are sponsoring a dance to raise funds to enable the basketball team to take in the school tournament at Stettler. A good turnout is looked for.

T. W. Hull of Keoma, Alberta, returned home after spending a week with his daughter, Mrs. Nelles.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hansen and son Lloyd of Lacombe caught this Scribe busy digging potatoes last Sunday. A good day, good spuds and good exercise.

Plenty of Pumpkins

Due to the nice long fall without frost, a nice display of pumpkins, muskmelons and watermelons now grace the cellars wherever you go. We should be able to chisel a few pieces of nice pumpkin pie this winter.

The village smithy, Frank Clark, has been very busy cutting down wheels and making old wagons into new ones, in addition to all the other work that goes on in a blacksmith shop. It is surprising what can be done with an old, rickety wagon.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

At all Christian Science churches next Sunday, the subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Unreality." One of the Scriptural quotations in the Lesson-Sermon is (1. Corinthians 2:14), "But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God; for they are foolishness unto him; neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned." One of the correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, is: "Christian Science sustains with immortal proof the impossibility of any material sense, and defines these so-called senses as mortal beliefs, the testimony of which cannot be true either of man or of his Maker. The corporal senses can take no cognizance of spiritual reality and immortality."

NATURALLY

"Did you hear what they do with ferryboats when they're late?"

"No; what?"

"Dock 'em."

SUNNY CREST.—Everyone has been busy with threshing, which ended Wednesday or thereabouts in this district. The crops turned out well, with an abundance of straw.

Many of the school children attended the School Fair held in Lacombe Wednesday.

Rev. F. T. Mathews left Monday morning for a week's visit at Vulcan with his daughter, Mrs. J. E. Cowell, and family, and son-in-law, Sam Flatland.

Mrs. J. Fisher, Raymond, and the baby are home again after a visit with Mrs. Fisher's parents in British Columbia.

Sunday services have been discontinued both at Sunny Crest and Lincoln until the harvest is over.

Lily Pools Popular

Lily pools are becoming popular. F. G. Mathews has installed one at the back of Rustic Inn and Mrs. B. F. Barr and Mrs. H. Woods expect to have one started shortly.

Peas are still growing and filling out in several gardens.

"Mary had a little lamb" that followed her to school one day—but what beats that are two ponies, owned by the Woods children, which followed them to school recently. They had been left at home when the children, who habitually rode to school, decided to walk instead. The ponies pushed open the farm gate and trotted up the road. When the children came out from their lessons the ponies were grazing placidly in the school yard.

BENTLEY.—Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Burger of Arrowwood is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Lulu Surratt, and family.

Harry Hewitt went up to Edmonton last week to resume his course at the University.

Patrick Tirrell of Pouce Coupe, B.C., was a guest at the J. Rea home last week.

Miss Margaret Butcher is attending school in Red Deer, taking Grade XI. The present course of study, limiting the number of subjects in which one High School teacher can give instruction, working out to the detriment of village pupils.

The George School of Dancing began classes here last Thursday with a class of about thirty.

Mr. Shackleton of the Intermediate room and Miss Carter, Primary teacher, spent the week-end at their homes in Olds and Calgary.

Gordon Kenny motored to Wainwright on Friday last, taking his mother, Mrs. Kenny, Sr., and her little grand-daughter home following a visit here. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Kenny are leaving this week to make their home in Wainwright. They have many friends here who regret their leaving but who wish them success in their new home.

New Farm Machinery Cuts Threshing Costs

The great Western harvest is practically over. Grasshoppers, rust and hail reduced the total yield, but still it is a great harvest. Lower price makes total returns less than in better years, but this is to a considerable extent offset by the lower cost of production made possible by the new lower-operating-cost machinery used so extensively this year.

The farmer who made use of this modern equipment this year reduced his operating costs to a point that made his operations almost as profitable as in the days of higher grain prices. So great have been the strides made in cost-reducing equipment these last three or four years that few but the farmers experiencing the benefits realize how great they really are.

Progress is Shown
How much progress had been made in this respect was reflected in the "Miscellaneous Series, Bulletin No. 18," issued in 1901 by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, dealing with farm machine prices and showing that—

"6-foot twine binder harvesters were sold to the farmer in 1880 for $325.00 and for $120.00 in 1900."

To justly appraise the contribution made by the implement maker to the furtherance of agriculture, and therefore the national economy, one must take cognizance of the progress made in the more modern machines.

The little combine of this year is an example—small, compact, a one-man outfit run from the power of the tractor, but with practically the same capacity as the first big combines offered to the farmers of Western Canada, in themselves huge, taking great power and needing at least two or more men to operate them. These first outfits sold for $2,450, but as the result of improved design, efficient manufacturing and volume the little 1938 machine was purchased by the farmer this year for about only $950.
